1. FIELD / SUBJECT

Function Policy Procedure / practice Service Strategy Document (if joint, state with whom)

Describe the main aim, objectives and intended outcomes of the above:

These pathways have been developed to enable clinicians in Primary Care to manage common gynaecological problems with confidence in their setting. The pathways are presented in the format of a flow chart for easy perusal with signposting where possible to sites for further information or to access patient information. They have been published on the Kingston Hospital website and other GP databases for GPs to access.

Would like then to be published on the hospital intranet for use by secondary care clinicians to reduce variation and help standardise care for our patients. They will be particularly useful for consultants triaging on e-referral so that GPs can be signposted to these so that GPs feel confident to manage in primary care in line with the pathways and also ensure appropriate investigations are done if referral is needed. They were developed by the Kingston Hospital Gynaecology team of doctors with valuable feedback from GP colleagues. For conditions where the SWL Gynaecology Network has developed a pathway, we have ensured these pathways align with SWL pathways. There are evidence based and aligned to national guidance where available and when this is not available they are based on principles of good medical practice.

An initial screening should be undertaken first. This helps to identify whether there is a possibility that people might have different experiences of the function/ policy / process/ strategy compared to others.

This initial EIA simply assesses whether different groups of people who use a service are affected by the intended function / policy/ practice / strategy more, less or in a different way than other groups of people. A differential impact occurs when a particular group has been affected differently by this in either a positive or negative/adverse way.

An assessment of whether there is a differential impact will be based on two factors – quantitative monitoring data and qualitative information, including the expert opinion from the EIA assessor who is normally the manager responsible for the delivery as well as someone with a different perspective. This would ideally be one or more service users or someone related to the service. There will be times when involving someone for their technical expertise or someone with specialist knowledge will be appropriate and EIA assessors should consider this. You must assess each of the 9 areas separately and consider how your document in section 1 may affect people's human rights.

2. ASSESSMENT OF POSSIBLE ADVERSE IMPACT AGAINST ANY MINORITY GROUP
